

Refocusing

Since its inception, RVEF has collaborated with RVUSD to ensure its students receive an exemplary education. At the start of this most recent school year, RVEF asked for your partnership in continuing to provide our youth with thoughtful and engaging resources during this trying time of distance learning. The Foundation's "An Opportunity to Invest" campaign raised close to $2500 and those funds have been used to sustain the After School Enrichment Program. The shift from in person to online classes brought several challenges. Our impact declined as families chose to limit the amount of screen time their child was exposed to. While attendance has been low, the children served are satisfied and grateful. Therefore, RVEF's Board of Directors prioritized maintaining this method of outreach and because of the funds already raised as well as restructuring this program's operations and cost, RVEF is able to continue this endeavor through the end of the school year.

With the Enrichment Program secured, it is time to refocus our fundraising efforts. The Art Docent Program, which serves all of our elementary school aged students district wide, is at risk of being cut for the 2021-22 school year. It costs $35,000 per year to purchase and prepare materials, restock kits, recruit and train volunteers, coordinate schedules, develop new projects and samples, and teach in those classrooms that do not have a volunteer assigned to them. Started 30 years ago, it began with three parents with three lessons for all the schools in the district to share. It has now grown to over 75 lessons and averages 130 Art Docents annually. All together, docents teach more than 875 lessons per year. This adds up to over 20,000 individual pieces of art work that are created by this wonderful program.

Help us ensure that next year our Rincon Valley schools have docent lead art instruction every month in each of our classrooms at every grade level. If you believe that ART is vital to providing a well-rounded education, join us in making an IMPACT this SEASON OF GIVING.

Warmly,

Megan Fonseca

TAKE OUR SURVEY

Help us fine tune RVEF's Enrichment Program by taking our survey. We'd love your input on how we've done and what we can provide in the future.

While classes will remain online until we return to school in person full time, we plan to use the time to plan for a successful relaunch.

Thank you for helping us provide quality enrichment programming to our community.

Sincerely,
Cathy and Megan
