

Teacher Shortage

By Dr. R. Pletsch

This is a crucial time for many teachers. Budgets are unsure in many districts. Many School Boards are having curriculum issues. If you, as a teacher, have strong convictions, you might want to take the opportunity to transfer into a district that shares your conviction.

Let me mention a few. 1. Critical Race Theory 2. Cancel Culture and 3. updated Sex Education curriculum. These were the most mentioned worries among a group of young teachers. It will be hard for some teachers to teach these subjects or for others not to teach them, but if it is in the established Board curriculum you must follow the mandate or you can be fired.

Some polls show that most teachers will follow the Board curriculum. After all, money speaks. Teachers who feel strongly about these subjects either way should try to work in a district they feel comfortable in. There is a teacher shortage in many areas and there are numerous teacher fairs popping up all over the country.

Teachers, I am not encouraging you to transfer. But after years in the systems, it is obvious to me that a teacher can get more from his or her students when they feel comfortable with the curriculum. You may have made yourself employable by obtaining multiple endorsements. When you interview, you may ask about the curriculum and issues of safety. The interviewer may not ask political questions or about what you did in the election. A few other tips, it may seem over simplified, but speak truthfully. Don't just give an answer because you feel that is what they want to hear. If you fit in the school, you will be more successful.

If you apply at a private or religious school, you should already understand that they have a different agenda. They may not have a residency requirement, which many people like, but they may not want a teacher who is already living with someone and not married. If you don't understand this, don't apply there. You won't be happy. If you intend to visit a school to help you decide, visit during the school day. I've had several people not show up for interviews because they drove by at night and got frightened. Most schools I taught in, I didn't hang around at night time either, but the neighborhoods were different in the daytime and very little to worry about.

Sundays On State Announces Activities

East-west streets within the program area will remain open so that retail, hotels, restaurants and residential spaces will still have access by vehicle. Signage about the street closure will be placed at the sites of the closure and two blocks out to provide ample notice. State Street from Wacker to Lake will be used as a drop-off zone.

World Festival Of Tap Dance

Chicago Human Rhythm Project welcomes performer, choreographer and teacher Jumaane Taylor as Artistic Director of its 30th annual summer festival of American tap, Rhythm World. A native Chicagoan, Taylor began his training at the Sammy Dyer School of the Theatre, won multiple, consecutive scholarships to Rhythm World as a young dancer and his since earned acclaim as the choreographer and director of "Supreme Love" as well as awards from 3Arts and Chicago Dancemakers Forum and as an adjunct faculty member of Roosevelt University.

This year's festival will span three weeks, July 26th - Aug. 15th, with each week featuring four emerging, established and legendary artists from around the world in intimate education programs and performances. New programs include the American Tap Conservatory and Choreographic Residency.

Artists making their Rhythm World debut as teachers and performers include Ivery Wheeler (Los Angeles), Karissa Royster (San Antonio/New York), Ian Berg (Chicago/Boston), Maurice Chestnut (New York), Christina Carmenucci (New York), Kaleena Miller (Minneapolis), Naomi Funaki (Tokyo/New York) and Robyn Watson (Philadelphia). Returning artists are Jason Janas (Detroit), Caleb Teicher (New York), Sarah Savelli (Cleveland, New York) and RW30AD, Jumaane Taylor (Chicago).

Special guests, Brian Seibert, a noted tap historian and New York Times dance critic, features writer and author of "What the Eye Hears, A History of Tap Dancing", will give public lecture the third week.

The festival will include performances at the Black Legistator's Theater at the DuSable Museum of African America History (Aug. 7th), Edlis Neeson Theater at the MCA/Chicago (Aug. 14th), Jazz Showcase (July 27th, Aug. 3rd and 10th), and Navy Pier's Lake State (July 28th). Education programs will take place in Chicago's historic Fine Arts Building and include Courses and Masterclasses (July 26th - 30th), Youth Tapeo Ensemble Conference (Aug. 2nd - 6th), Choreographic Residency and Teacher Certification (Aug. 9th-13th) and the American Tap Conservatory (July 26th - Aug. 14th).

CBA Offers Legal Service

The Chicago Bar Association is reminding the public that attorneys are available to provide legal assistance online or over the telephone.

The CBA sponsors a monthly "Call A Lawyer" program through the Lawyer Referral Service, making attorneys available to take calls from the public. On Saturday, August 21st from 9 a.m. to noon, the public can call (312) 554-2001 and explain their situation to an attorney.

These services can also be accessed on the CBA's website at www.chicagobar.org.

Groundbreaking For Park District Campus

On July 15th, Mayor Lightfoot joined elected leaders, Chicago Park District General Superintendent Michael Kelly, and Don Villar, Secretary- Treasurer from the Chicago Federation of Labor to break ground on the new Chicago Park District Campus in Brighton Park. The District's move from its current Streteville location to 4800 S. Western, will bring much-needed investment to the city's Southwest side, including added parkland to one of the city's top park-deprived communities as well as stimulating the local economy by creating jobs and increasing spending with neighboring businesses.

The District Campus will feature a 58,100 square foot, multi-story, administrative office space. An additional 20,000 square feet will house the fieldhouse with a gymnasium, fitness center, bathrooms, locker rooms, and community multi-purpose rooms. The total 17-acre footprint also includes outdoor park improvements including, artificial turf athletic fields with lighting, a grand lawn, walkways, a playground, spray pool, natural area, and parking. The site is accessible via the #48, #49, and #94 CTA bus routes and the Orange line CTA "L" stop at 49th Street and Western avenue.

Approximately 350 construction jobs will be created, including carpenters, masonry workers, and painters. About 180 Park District employees will relocate to the campus.

This project creates a unique opportunity for the Chicago Park District to own, rather than lease, administrative office while addressing the deficit of open space per capita in Brighton Park which has an open space need of 66.68 acres.

In the search for a new administrative headquarters, the Park District explored several locations across the city. The site at 48th and Western was selected due to the City's prioritization for neighborhood investment, the need for additional open space acreage in the community, the site's direct access to public transportation, and the large size and neighborhood context of the available property. The Park District acquired the site in 2018, began environmental remediation of the site and design work in 2019. The project was issued for bid in the summer of 2020.

The total cost of the campus is approximately $65 million. Funding includes multiple sources including, New Market Tax Credits and Tax Increment Financing.

World Snake Day At Brookfield Zoo

On July 16th, World Snake Day, Brookfield Zoo celebrated by posting on its social media channels a video of its reticulated python receiving its annual weight and length measurements. The 16-year-old male python, who resides at the Zoo's Reptiles and Birds House, is 15 feet 2 inches long and weighs almost 84 pounds. The species is the longest snake in the world averaging between 10 to 20 feet.

The purpose of World Snake Day is to raise awareness for the more than 3,000 species found on every continent, except Antarctica. The reticulated python is a native throughout south-east Asia.

The reptiles are effective hunters and control the pest population, but they are also a food source to many animals such as birds of prey, mongoose, crocodiles, coyotes, and larger species of the feline family.

Although the reticulated python is not endangered, several species are due to habitat loss, disease, over-harvesting, and climate change.

$51.78 Million For Head Start

The Office of Head Start, an office of the Administration for Children and Families under the US Department of Health and Human Service, has announced its new grant awards for Chicago. In this new round of funding, the Chicago Department of Family and Support Services will receive $51.78M of the $145M to support Head Start/Early Head Start programming effective August. The funding period is for five years.

DFSS will support 14 delegate agencies across 39 community areas in serving 2,756 eligible children.

Families interested in enrolling children in one of DFSS' 14 delegate agencies Head Start or Early Head Start programs can visit www.Chicagoearlylearning.org.

Pet Smart Promotes Adoption Week

Those who adopt a cat from PetSmart stores during National Adoption Week will be invited to participate in a live, virtual Cat Chat with Bobby and Nacho Flay taking place on August 24th.

PetSmart Charities, is joining forces with the newly launched brand of cat-crafted food to help find loving homes for thousands of shelter animals during its National Adoption Week, taking place July 19th - 25th.

While an array of animals will be on-site for adoption, including dogs, cats, puppies, kittens and various small animals, PetSmart Charities is partnering with the known cat-lover and animal advocate to highlight the unconditional love and affection these fiercely independent and curious creatures provide, during kitten season.

PetSmart is ensuring pets who find their forever homes during National Adoption Week are ready for life with their new pet parents, by providing complimentary adoption kits for dogs (valued at $450) and cats (valued at $300) for all of the supplies they may need, including a coupon for a free bag of pet food. As a special incentive, cat adopters will receive a coupon for one free 3 oz. pouch of Made by Nacho Cuts in Gravy with bone broth and $5.00 off one bag of Made by Nacho high-protein kibble with freeze-dried chicken liver, any size, any flavor, while supplies last.

Each National Adoption Week, PetSmart Charities invites local humane societies, SPCAs and pet rescue organizations to bring adoptable pets into PetSmart stores across the country so they have the best chance possible of finding a loving home. Since 1994, over 9.7 million pets have been adopted.

The local PetSmart store is at 4146 S. Pulaski, (773) 299-9611.

Free Bike Riding Classes For Adults

blvd. through Aug. 26th. Saturday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon, at 1401 S. Sacramento Dr. at Douglass Park on July 31st; and August 14th and 28th.

Saturday morning from 10 a.m. to noon, at the Divvy Station; 500 N. Sacramento Blvd. on July 24th; and August 7th and 21st.

For individuals 16 and older, who have successfully completed a "Learn to Ride" class and are looking to build confidence riding on the streets of Chicago, CDOT will be offering "Advanced Learn to Ride" classes at Seward Park, 375 W. Elm Street on July 24th; August 7th and 21st from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

CDOT is piloting a new class called "Learn to Commute" for participants who have successfully completed "Advanced Learn to Ride" and are looking to gain experience in bike commuting, especially during times of heavier traffic. It will offer guided rides of five to seven miles from five locations on the South, West and North Sides ending at the Daley Center. This course will focus more on riding during the morning rush. Sign-up for "Learn to Commute" will open this summer.

Free use of a Divvy bike is offered to participants, although they can also use their own bikes for all courses. Reservations are required and granted on a first-come, first-serve basis. Make a reservation by email to sturner@samschwartz.com; or leave a voicemail at (312) 736-2534.

Adult participants who have pre-registered for the two-hour classes will receive a free helmet, subject to availability. The classes are also open to children with a guardian if space is available, however, children under 16 are required to bring their own bike. Interested participants under 5 feet 3 inches are encouraged to bring their own bike, as Divvy bikes are most comfortable for riders 5'3" and taller.

City Schedules Cultural Events

The Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events announced reimagined summer cultural events plus artist lineups and other details for City programs.

The new programs include 16 City-supported "Chicago Presents" community events; a nine-part "House City" series in the neighborhoods, a week of "Taste of Chicago To-Go" pop-up food and music events plus 25+ community meals; two Latinx and World Music celebrations; two films and two more special events at the Jay Pritzker Pavilion; and a unique blend of public art and dance at Lurie Garden in Millennium Park.

Special events at the Jay Pritzker Pavilion will now include "A Deeply Rooted Evening for Chicago's Healing: GOSHEN (preview)" presented by Deeply Rooted Dance Theater (Aug. 25th at 7:30pm, DeeplyRootedDanceTheater.org) and "Baroque in the Park" presented by Music of the Baroque (Sept. 10th at 6:30 - 8 p.m., Baroque.org). Previously announced, The Auditorium Theatre presents Chicago Dancers United with Dance for Life (Aug. 26th at 6 p.m., ChicagoDancersUnited.org).

Other unique performances throughout Millennium Park include two free, outdoor events presented by the Joan W. and Irving B. Harris Theater for Music and Dance (HarrisTheaterChicago.org): "INTERPLAY" curated with composer, trumpet player, and multi-instrumentalist Sam Trump on the Harris Theater Rooftop (Aug. 22nd); and the "Films.Dance" series, a global collaboration produced by Jacob Jonas The Company and featuring over 150 artists from 25 countries, screening at the Jay Pritzker Pavilion (Sept.). "Sonic Pavilion" (Aug. and Sept., ESS.org) a series of sound installations commissioned by Experimental Sound Studio for the overhead trellis loudspeaker array at the Jay Pritzker Pavilion. Compositions utilize the entire surface of the trellis's 60-channel system, resulting in an immersive canopy of sound — a fluid sonic architecture that bridges the focus of a live performance. Chicago-based contemporary artist Brendan Fernandes will present "72 Seasons" (performances on Aug. 21st, Sept. 25th, and Oct. 23rd, ChicagoManual. style), a public artwork and installation in Lurie Garden. The movement-based piece, featuring dancers with costumes by designer Rad Hourani, engages with ballet history and Chicago's prairie landscape to envision passages of time demarcated by the Japanese calendar. The 2021 season of Grant Park Music Festival (Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, through Aug. 21st at 6:30-8pm, GPMF.org) will feature 21 classical music concerts at the Jay Pritzker Pavilion. The Grant Park Orchestra and Chorus return to Millennium Park with Festival favorites.

High Rank For Park District

The Chicago Park District has been ranked among the top five of the Trust for Public Land's ParkScore, the national gold-standard comparison of park systems across the 100 most populated cities in the United States. The index measures cities according to access, investment, amenities, acreage, equity.
Managing more than 14,000 acres of land, the Chicago Park District offers 99% of city residents less than a ten-minute walk or half mile from a park or open space. Signature projects are the Gately Track and Field in Roseland, Williams Park fieldhouse in Douglass, Ford Calumet Environmental Center and ComEd Sports Complex on the Near West side.

Mask Policy At Art Institute

Fully vaccinated visitors to the Art Institute of Chicago are no longer required to wear masks in the galleries. This change is in alignment with the City of Chicago's newly updated guidelines, which also include increased capacity limits at public venues.
Staff and visitor safety remains a top priority, so visitors who are not fully vaccinated should continue to wear masks in accordance with CDC, Illinois, and Chicago guidelines, and will continue to encourage physical distancing and clean and disinfect to the highest standards.
Visitors should continue to purchase tickets on line in advance. The Obama Portraits opened on June 18th.
Checkrooms, restaurants, and the Ryan Learning Center remain closed, and all museum events continue to be held virtually.

Vaccination Sites For CPS Students

Chicago Public Schools and Chicago Department of Public Health announced a comprehensive approach to vaccinating eligible students against COVID-19 this summer and during the 2021-22 school year.
All students ages 12 and older are eligible to receive the Pfizer vaccine and students 18 and older are also eligible for the single-dose Johnson & Johnson vaccine. Youth can also get vaccinated at local pharmacies, with their primary care provider, and at local clinics.
The district will convert Chicago Vocational Career Academy in Avalon Park; Michele Clark High School in Austin; and Theodore Roosevelt High School in Albany Park—to specifically support CPS students and families. These sites will be open weekly from 9:00 a.m. to 1 p.m. throughout the Summer.
Families seeking additional information and registration should visit cps.edu/vaccinations.

Invite Ideas For Infrastructure

Mayor Lori E. Lightfoot announced that applications are open for the Chicago Works Community Challenge, $10 million competition to find the best public works projects in each of seven planning regions.
Projects eligible for funding include investments in public parks, schools, libraries, City-run community centers and vacant lots.
Applications are open to all Chicago residents community groups and nonprofits and are due by Monday, Aug. 30th.
Submissions that meet guidelines for selection will be subject to a thorough community engagement and evaluation process that will lead to a shortlist of projects for each of the seven planning regions. Winning projects will be selected by the end of this year based on feasibility, design, community input and impact.
All feasible submissions will be considered as investment ideas for Chicago Works, the five-year capital plan that will invest in communities through infrastructure.
In addition to institutional investments like parks, schools and libraries, Chicago Works dedicates funding to repair and replace roads, bridges, sidewalks, ADA accessible crosswalk ramps, streetlights, traffic signals, and other infrastructure projects.

Archdiocese Plans Pre-K Language

The Archdiocese of Chicago, in partnership with the Alliance for Catholic Education at the University of Notre Dame, will launch a pilot program next fall, the Early Childhood Language Intensive Pre-school to offer daily core students instruction in Spanish, Polish or Mandarin Chinese to Pre-K students.
"There is solid research indicating that you teach students at the Pre-K level with multilingual instruction, it tends to stay with them in later years," said Dr. Katy Lichon, director of Catholicity School Advantage and English as a New Language at Notre Dame. "Moreover, the stronger you are in your first language, such as Spanish, the stronger you'll be in learning a second or third language."
Eight schools offering 30 minutes to an hour of daily core lessons in Spanish are Annunciata, St. Bartholomew, St. Bede the Venerable; St. Mary of the Angels, Our Lady of Guadalupe; St. Nichols of Tolentine; St. Richard and Pope John XXIII. St. Therese will offer a curriculum in Mandarin Chinese and St. Zachary will provide instruction in Polish. Teachers at these schools will train on the new curriculum this summer with assistance from Notre Dame.

$8 Million For Apprenticeship

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity announced an $8 million expansion of the Apprenticeship Illinois program. Through a Notice of Funding Opportunity, DCEO will expand innovative and high-quality apprenticeship programs to prepare Illinoisans for jobs in high-demand industries.

The State aims to serve an additional 750 apprentices across key industries, with plans to reach underserved populations as well as industries impacted by COVID-19.

$2 million in USDOL funding under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act and $6 million of additional funding under the USDOL will be leveraged for the State Apprenticeship Expansion, Equity and Innovation grant program. The State will also seek to boost capacity of existing apprenticeship pathways in all sectors which are offered in partnership with employer-led navigator partners across the state.

DCEO will expand apprenticeship opportunities geared toward restoring the creative arts and entertainment sector, while increasing training opportunities for underserved populations. Apprenticeship expansion dollars will also grow the capacity of pathways currently offered and which have been impacted during the crisis - including those ranging from healthcare to hospitality, tech to transportation, manufacturing and more.

The NOFO application is located on Apprenticeship Illinois website, with a deadline of Sept. 15th, at 5 p.m. Residents and employers seeking to join the Apprenticeship Illinois program may also visit ApprenticeshipIllinois.com.

Comics Exhibit At Cultural Center

Chicago: Where Comics Came to Life (1880-1960) is on exhibit at the Chicago Cultural Center, 78 E. Washington st., Sidney Yates Gallery, 4th Floor North through Oct. 3rd.

Chicago's role in the development of the early comic strip is evident through its countless newspapers and publishing industry. The city led the transformation of comics from daily fantasy and joke features into ongoing stories grounded in the textures and details of real life, its first real step towards legitimacy as an expressive language and semi-literary art form.

Curated by artist and author Chris Ware, and Chicago Cultural Historian Emeritus, Tim Samuelson, this exhibition is designed and planned as an intentional historical companion to the concurrently appearing survey of contemporary Chicago comics at the Museum of Contemporary Art, in which Ware's work also appears.

AUTO INSURANCE IS THE LAW IN ILLINOIS.

If you don't have it, the new electronic verification system will catch it.

Here's how it works:

- The new system automatically checks auto insurance electronically twice a year.
- If no insurance is found for your car, you will receive a letter telling you to contact your insurance company to verify coverage to avoid being suspended.

If you do not have auto insurance, obtain it now. It's the law.
