

Unintended Consequences

By Dr. R. Pletsch

I've had pleasant conversations with many adults and kids at several school and community activities. It interestingly turned to things they or their kids or grandkids learned in school that they probably never would have learned if they continued to be home-schooled like many did last year. They started laughing at some of the things they learned that their parents certainly did not send them to school to learn. The conversations did not center on the negatives of the pandemic, but their hopes for the future. Those involved in the conversations agreed that kids being in front of professionals had certain diagnoses take place. A few they mentioned were hearing and speech difficulties, along with some learning problems, autism, and dyslexia. They agreed there may have been a delay in these diagnoses if it were this year and the kids were home for learning. After all, most of us assume our kids are average and do not have a broad range of similarly aged children to compare them with. So these were unintended consequences, that while sounding negative, were positive because of earlier diagnosis.

They also noted that the occasional bullying, including cyber bullying, skinned knees at recess, were things they did not intend to happen, but were situations that had to be dealt with. The school environment is set to try and help parents with that.

A couple folks stated where else would a kid develop his sense of humor, when they are all excited to bring home the world renowned elephant and knock knock jokes. There are many things you could add to this list. The people I spoke with were basically thinking of students in Pre-K to 6th grade range. But I told them it was high school that I met my wife, and that was certainly the intended outcome, though I am grateful.

Lottery Awards For Vaccinated

Governor Pritzker announced $10 million 'All In for the Win' promotion that will reward vaccinated Illinoisans by automatically entering them into a series of cash and scholarship lotteries with prizes up to $1 million.

More than 70% of Illinois adults have received at least one dose of the COVID-19 vaccine, according to the CDC, making Illinois the first state in the Midwest to reach President Biden's goal.

All In for the Win offers $7 million in cash prizes to vaccinated adults, ranging from $100,000 to $1 million, and $3 million in scholarship awards to vaccinated youth, held in Bright Start 529 College Savings Plan.

There are no sign ups, no forms, and no lines to wait in. Residents are encouraged to get vaccinated before July 1st to ensure they're entered into every draw, including the first million-dollar top prize on July 8th.

The Illinois Department of Public Health will continue to check their records before each drawing. Once entered, residents remain eligible in all future drawings, unless they win.

One million-dollar cash winner and three $150K scholarship winners will be drawn on July 8th, and weekly drawings will continue throughout the summer. ## Art Exhibit At Morton Arboretum

The Morton Arboretum's new outdoor art exhibition, Human+ Nature connects people and trees.

Renowned artist Daniel Popper created five 15- to 26-foot-tall sculptures that will be featured in various locations across its 1,700 acres, leading guests to areas they may not have explored before.

On the East Side, a short walk from the Visitor Center, guests will be able to step within a huge female figure, as if into the heart of nature. Continuing along a less than mile-long walk, they will encounter a majestic maternal figure as tall as a tree, and a sculpture of diverse human facial traits interwoven with root structures.

On the West Side, two hands joined by intertwining roots will extend near a grove of old oaks, and a towering face will evoke the interconnectedness of humans and trees. Made of glass-reinforced concrete, fiberglass, and steel, each sculpture will weigh several metric tons. The largest ground footprint will be 28 feet wide and 37 feet long.

Trees have the power to refresh and restore people, to connect them to the natural world. They provide clean air to breathe, shade to cool, and beauty that can bring joy and relaxation. In turn, trees need people to care for them if they are to thrive and share their benefits.

Daniel Popper is a multidisciplinary artist known for his larger-than-life sculptures. From Cape Town, South Africa, he is most acclaimed for his massive public art installations, including the memorial sculpture for the Nelson Mandela School of Science and Technology in the Eastern Cape of South Africa, and sculptures for popular events such as the Boom Festival in Portugal and Rainbow Serpent Festival in Australia.

Human+Nature is included with timed-entry admission to the Arboretum. The exhibition is planned to run for at least one year. Visit mortonarb.org

Reopening For Cultural Center

The Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events announced the historic restoration of the landmark Chicago Cultural Center, 78 E. Washington street, to reclaim two lost interiors decorated by the Tiffany Glass and Decorating Company: the Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Hall and Rotunda.

The museum-quality restoration of the art glass dome and decorative finishes is made possible by a generous grant of services valued at $15,425,000 to the City. ### Archdiocese Plans Pre-K Language

The Archdiocese of Chicago, in partnership with the Alliance for Catholic Education at the University of Notre Dame, will launch a pilot program next fall, the Early Childhood Language Intensive Pre-school to offer daily core students instruction in Spanish, Polish or Mandarin Chinese to Pre-K students.

“There is solid research indicating when you teach students at the Pre-K level with multilingual instruction, it tends to stay with them in later years,” said Dr. Katy Lichon, director of Catholicity School Advantage and English as a New Language at Notre Dame. “Moreover, the stronger you are in your first language, such as Spanish, the stronger you’ll be in learning a second or third language.”

Eight schools offering 30 minutes to an hour of daily core lessons in Spanish are Annunciata, St. Bartholomew, St. Bede the Venerable; St. Mary of the Angels, Our Lady of Guadalupe; St. Nichols of Tolentine; St. Richard and Pope John XXIII. St. Therese will offer a curriculum in Mandarin Chinese and St. Zachary will provide instruction in Polish. Teachers at these schools will train on the new curriculum this summer with assistance from Notre Dame.

Illinois Supreme Court Unveils New Website

The Illinois Supreme Court unveiled a newly redesigned website for the Judicial Branch at <https://illinoiscourts.gov> which features a new modern layout, new features, and color scheme.

“The Illinois Supreme Court is extremely excited for the rollout of this new website,” Chief Justice Anne M. Burke said. “It contains a wealth of information on the Illinois Judicial Branch including the Circuit, Appellate and Supreme Court levels. Extensive user testing was done to ensure that people are able to quickly and easily navigate to find what they need.”

The new website has been designed to include four major portals on its home page which represent those that would most likely need information from the Illinois Courts: the general public, judges, lawyers, and the media. The home page also includes a link to numerous Helpful Services from the Illinois Courts that users may be visiting the website. An improved Self Help section is catered to self-represented litigants.

All content from the previous website has been migrated over and is available on the new site with improved functionality. A new mega-menu allows website users to find what they are looking for with greater ease and less clicks and users will be able to receive email or text notifications for a variety of updates to the website such as court opinions, oral argument calendars, and press releases.

Other new and improved features include a Find Your Court directory with listings for the state’s 108 courts, new filters to search and sort reviewing court opinions and Rule 23 orders, improved access to Supreme Court Rules, search capabilities throughout the site, Probation services, a Forms Hub, and a judicial section to list associate and circuit vacancies.

The Illinois Courts website receives an average of 500,000 visits per month. Popular pages include Supreme and Appellate Court opinions, Supreme Court Rules and statewide forms, which have been grouped together in a new Court Forms Hub.

Authors Book On 1970 Chicago Cubs

W.S. BIKE

Author William S. Bike participated in a question and answer session about his new book The Forgotten 1970 Chicago Cubs: Go and Glow, moderated by Chicago Cubs historian Brian Bernardoni, at Prime Time Restaurant & Bar on June 21st.

Chicago Cubs fans always will remember the beloved 1969 team, yet the 1970 Cubs are, in many ways, more fascinating. Author Bike tells their story in his latest book, which is available from arcadiapublishing.com/products/9781467149082 for $25.

“In 1970, the Cubs added interesting characters like Joe Pepitone and Milt Pappas to the legendary nucleus of Billy Williams, Ron Santo, and Ernie Banks,” Bike said. “The team came closer to finishing first than in any year between 1945 and 1984—ending the season only five games out in one of baseball’s hottest three-team pennant races ever.”

Offering a fast-paced look at the season month by month, Bike moves beyond wins, losses, and statistics to relive Ernie Banks’s 500th home run, the addition of “the basket” to the outfield walls, good and bad trades, how manager Leo Durocher’s radio show caused clubhouse chaos, death threats against third baseman Ron Santo, outfielders Billy Williams’s and Jim Hickman’s best season, the Cubs pitching rotation, and statistical and computer analyses of how the Eastern Division Cubs would have done playing in the Western Division—and in the playoffs and World Series.

Bike also wrote the books Streets of the Near West Side, Winning Political Campaigns, and Celebrating a Proud Past. He also edited the book Essays on Earl Renfro: A Man of Firsts. An associate editor of the newspaper Gazette Chicago, he also works as a freelance writer. He formerly directed communications for Loyola University Chicago, University of Chicago Graduate School of Business, and University of Illinois Chicago College of Dentistry. Bike has earned more than 50 awards in journalism, publications, media relations, and alumni relations, including three Peter Lisagor Awards, the top honor in Chicago journalism.

Anyone age 12 and over is now eligible to get the Pfizer vaccine.
Those under 18 must be accompanied by a parent.

Anyone getting vaccinated should expect minimal side effects. The most common are pain at the injection site, fatigue, headache, muscle aches and fever. Most of these last just 1-2 days. Side effects mean the vaccine is working and the body's immune system is reacting and creating antibodies to fight COVID-19.

For more information about COVID-19, visit Sinai Chicago's COVID-19 webpage at www.sinaiachicago.org.

Lakefront Beaches Open To Labor Day

The Chicago Park District announced that 22 beaches are open for the 2021 season through Monday, Sept. 6th.

Under the Chicago Bridge Phase, resident can look forward to a typical beach experience. With the exception of drinking fountains, which remain shut off.

The Chicago Park District will continue to utilize the flag notifications system and interact web page to display swim status, water quality, weather date, location information, amenities, directions and historical details about each of the 26 lakefront beach locations.

The following flag notification system tells patrons the current status of beaches: Green - Swimming is permitted. Weather conditions are fair and water quality is good. Yellow - Swimming is permitted, but caution is advised. Weather conditions are unpredictable, or bacteria levels are higher than the water quality criteria set by EPA for notifying the public.

Red - Swimming is not permitted. Weather conditions or water quality conditions are dangerous.

Additional signage that reads "Swim Only When Lifeguards Are On Duty" is installed on every lifeguard perch last year to reinforce swim guidelines. Flag poles are also placed on all swimming beaches. Lifeguards will post a red flag at the end of the night to remind patrons that swimming is no longer permitted. That flag will remain in place throughout the night until the state of the next lifeguard shift.

Beachgoers can also access information on swim status by calling the Chicago Park District Beach Hotline at 312-74-BEACH or checking chicagoparkdistrict.com or following Facebook and Twitters.

Admission to Chicago's beaches is free. For a list of locations or for more information, visit the Park District website at chicagoparkdistrict.com or call the Beaches and Pools Unit at (773) 363-2225.
