Student Morale

By Dr. R. Pletsch

EdWeek Research Center's monthly survey focused on the impact of Covid-19 on K - 12 education. This survey adminbetween September 29th and October 8th displayed teacher and administrators perception of student morale. This survey was first utilized in March, 2020. This month's survey showed the highest student morale since the survey started.

These surveys indicate that morale is not as high as before the pandemic but those that are now in school only 58% indicate their morale is lower than pre-pandemic time. While this doesn't sound good, 67% show their morale was lower than before the pandemic in April. Still, not great, but the trend is getting better.

Perception in districts that provide more in-person instruction have a higher morale than those districts where the students spent most of last year with remote instructions, and those schools that used the hybrid

This is considered by many to be an accurate survey and held up nationwide. Many educators believe that morale is a significant factor in how students perform and how they are able to relate to staff and other always being questioned like this, but the statistics are a percentage or two more favorable in grades 9 through 12. This survey included 939 educators, 175 principals and 277 leaders. Compared to many other surveys, this is a large amount. Of course, the parents' perception is reflected in the students'

party. Guests are invited to bring their "best buds

Virtual Lectures At Brookfield Zoo

This fall, Brookfield Zoo is offering a virtual lecture series featuring an array of fascinating topics about its animals, conservation programs, and a behind-the-scenes look at the veterinary care the animals receive. Following each presentation, there will be time for a guanay question and answer session. Lectures, which begin at 7 p.m., are free, although a $10 donation is appreciated. Online reservations are required at CZS.org/LectureSeries. Lectures include: Halloween Animals: Bats, Wolves, and Creepy Crawlies on Wednesday, Oct. 27th. Learn fascinating facts and fiction behind some of Brookfield Zoo's resident animals that are associated with the fall holiday. Andre Copeland, interpretative programs manager for the Chicago Zoological Society, will explore these animals' connections to folklore.

Between the Guano

and the Sea: Exploring Punta San Juan, Peru on Tuesday, Nov. 2nd. A team of on-site biologists and researchers work in collaboration with others around the globe to understand the ecology, behavior, and threats of resident marine species like Humboldt penguins, guanay cormorants, South American sea lions, and Peruvian fur seals.

nary Care of Brookfield Zoo on Tuesday, Nov. 16th. Dr. Mike Adkesson, vice president of clinical medicine for the Chicago Zoological Society, oversees the veterinary team, hospital operations, and medical care of Brookfield Zoo's animals. Whether it is a CT scan and sinus surgery for Layla, a black rhinoceros; a total hip replacement surgery on Malena, an aging Amur tiger; or cataract surgery on a California sea lion, the veterinary team is pushing the boundaries of zoological medicine.
